Gen. Victoriano Huerta.

Former President of Mexico, who arrived in New York yesterday for a thirty days' visit in the United States. He denies that he was run out of Spain and declines to say whether or not he will try to see President Wilson when he goes to Washington.

This offensive is not known, but it has been reported that the Germans look upon this position, which commands the plain of the Woerwa, as one of great importance, and further attacks may be looked for.

Otherwise the situation in the western zone is of comparatively little interest, owing to the general calm that prevails.

In the east, although the Russians have occupied the principal positions in the western sections of the Carpathians, there is one height, known

Swears the Oath that He will

Neutrality Here.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE
TIMES, April 12.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta, the former Mexican dictator, arrived in New York tonight on the Spanish liner Antonio Lopez from Spain. He expects to stay in the United States for at least thirty days and perhaps longer.

Gen. Huerta is still the same picturesque old warrior, a bit saddened in feature, perhaps, but just as alert, mentally as well as physically, as in the days when he was supreme in Mexico City. He signed, upon oath, a paper on his arrival, in which he stated that he did not expect to remain in the United States longer than thirty days, and that he has no intentions of visiting Mexico or even Cuba, and that he will not violate the laws of neutrality. Despite the fact that it was the United States that made him give up his dictatorship, Gen. Huerta declared that he was certain that the present visit (which is for pleasure and perhaps a little personal business on the side) would remain one of the pleasantest memories of his long and stormy career. Before he left New York he announced that he intended to take the American people into his confidence and tell them all he knew about Mexico, himself and his plans; Spain and even the "big trouble," as he termed it, that is taking place in Europe.

The Antonio Lopez arrived in quarantine shortly after 4 o'clock. The ship was opposite the Statue of Liberty before the eagle-eyed old Mexican caught his first glimpse of that famous beacon.

"LA GRAN ESTADUAL"

"La gran estatua de libertad!" he murmured, as he glanced in the direction of the bronze goddess, his remarks, when translated, meaning "the wonderful Statue of Liberty."

With Gen. Huerta and his party are Jose C. Delgado, his private secretary, and Abraham C. Ratner, one of his most trusted business advisers.

The first question asked Gen. Huerta was as to his destination.

"My ticket reads New York," he answered.

Somebody asked him his plans and quickly came the answer that he had none at the present time. As a matter of fact, Gen. Huerta said he was averse to talking for publication until he had been in New York for at least three or four days. At the end of that time, he added, he would talk and would discuss any topic asked for as Senator Ratner put it: "Gen. Huerta has a great admiration for the great American press."

As Ratner speaks English fluently he did most of the talking of the day up to the bay. He said one rumor he wanted to spike was that Gen. Huerta intended to visit the United States in New York. This meeting would not take place, he said, for the good reason that Gen. Blanguet, who is now in Madrid.

"Will Gen. Huerta go to Washington?" was asked.

"Perhaps he will," was the answer. "But he is asked if he would sign an affidavit that he did not intend to see President Wilson he replied that that was a question he could not answer."

Ratner said that there was no truth in the report that the Spanish government had asked Gen. Huerta to quit that country, because of the treatment accorded Spanish citizens in Mexico. Everywhere in Spain, he said, the former dictator had been warmly welcomed by the Spanish authorities and people.

At this point Delgado, the private secretary, came up and told Gen. Huerta that Immigration Inspector English desired to see him. Gen. Huerta proceeded to the salon, where Mr. English awaited him.

HUERTA UNDER FIRE.

In answer to questions put by Mr. English, Gen. Huerta said he was 58 years old; the purpose of his visit was pleasure and travel; perhaps a little personal business and that he had no intention of visiting Mexico or Cuba.

This concluded Gen. Huerta's examination, and he was then made to sign an affidavit that he did not intend to stay over thirty days in the United States. If, at the end of that time, he is still in the United States, a head tax of $4 would have to be paid to the government.

Ratner and Delgado were questioned next, and both stated that they were only transients and did not expect to exceed the thirty-day limit.

This ended the immigration part of the welcome, and Gen. Huerta and his companions were told they were free to land when the Lopez reached her pier.

A GAY PASSENGER.

Passengers said Gen. Huerta had

SLAUGHTER OF GERMANS DETAILED BY THE FRENCH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, April 12.—There has been given out in Paris a description by an eyewitness of the attempt made by the Germans on April 8 to retake a small fort at Beaune-Jour held by the French.

Two companies of volunteers led in this attack. They showed an absolute contempt for death, but nevertheless they were stopped by the fire of the French artillery and infantry.

The Hunan River.

Only a few of them escaped. Another attack, in which the Germans paid a heavy price, was successful in penetrating the first line of trenches. These positions were held by two companies of the French infantry. They were so thick in these trenches that they crowded each other and intermingled with the French. The French artillery fired. Those who escaped the shelling were mostly bayoneted by the French infantry. Only ten men survived.

LABORERS GET A BLACK EYE IN SAN FRANCISCO AWARD.

Contract for City Printing Goes to Open-shop Firm.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 12.—After a deadlock extending over many months, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors today settled the question whether the union label should necessarily be on all city printing by awarding the contract for printing the municipal reports for 1913-1914 to the Neal Publishing Company, a firm that does not use the label. The bid of the Neal company was much lower than any of its competitors, but the award of the contract has been delayed by the union labor members of the board.

The vote was 10 to 8, the deadlock broken by Supervisor P. H. Shur, who had voted with the other eight labor Supervisors.

FELT THE PUBLIC PULSE.

"I have always voted in the interests of labor," said Shur, "and I voted against awarding this contract to the Neal firm, even after the Supreme Court of the State had decided against us. But I feel that we are here to do the will of the people, and when, at the recent election in this city, the majority of a kind for their support of the amendment making the union label compulsory, they plainly declared for a policy which I think it is my duty to follow."

There was no discussion of the question, and the contract was awarded only a few minutes.

VALLEJO, April 12.—Orders received at Mare Island navy yard today require that all repair work on the first division of the torpedo boat fleet be completed by May 1, when it is scheduled to sail for San Pedro. CONTRACT IS SIGNED GIVING THE NEW COMPANY EXCLUSIVE RIGHTS OVER THE WESTERN PACIFIC LINE BETWEEN SALT LAKE AND THE NORTHERN CITY, BEGINNING MAY THE FIRST.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 12.—By an agreement with the receivers of the Western Pacific Railroad approved today by the United States District Court, the American Express Company, an $11,000,000 New York corporation, secured the exclusive right to transport its traffic over the Western Pacific from Salt Lake to San Francisco. It will begin operation on May 1, taking the place of the Globe Express Company, a Gould corporation, owned by the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad.

The agreement is to continue in force for two years and six months from May 1 and for such further time until one of the parties shall have given six months' notice of its desire to terminate or revise it.

LEPROSY CURABLE, SAYS SCIENTIST.

IT'S ONLY A QUESTION OF SPENDING MONEY FOR TREATMENT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, April 12.—Leprosy is curable and there is little danger of contracting the disease, as have shown by having none but leprosy servants in my house for years. All the house boys I had during many years in San Francisco were affected with leprosy and I cured them all, except those who had the disease in too advanced form, when they came to me. It is only a question of spending money enough to give the treatment. The cure is sure and leprosy could be stamped out in this country in a short time.

The foregoing statement was made today by Dr. Adolph H. Boehmer, a noted Holland scientist, who arrived here on the liner Silberta from the Orient. He has been nine years in San Francisco and has devoted himself exclusively to the study of leprosy.

BRITISH CAPTAIN AS A FIGHTER.

WITH A RIFLE HE REPELS TWO ATTACKS BY AIRCRAFT IN THE NORTH SEA.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

LONDON, April 12.—"Armed with a rifle, Capt. Sharp of the British steamer Berula, which has arrived here, successfully repulsed an attack made upon her steamer by a large German hydroplane and a small aeroplane off the Norwegian coast."

The aeroplanes first approached the ship dropping bombs, which fell into the sea. As it returned to the attack Capt. Sharp fired upon it with a rifle, hitting the machine several times and damaging one of its wings. Then the hydroplane took up the attack, but it was also driven off. Capt. Sharp says he is convinced the aeroplanes were so badly damaged that it was unable to reach Zebrugga.

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. Constipated old people are disposed to restricted activity and exercise, which is responsible for the constipated condition of most old folks.

The digestive organs are more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly. A mild, effective remedy for constipation can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS. EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

"Buckeye" Night.

A special delegation from Cleveland will attend the Ohio Society meeting at No. 443 South Figueroa street, this evening. All persons from Ohio now in Los Angeles will be welcomed.

Another Municipal Dance.

A municipal dance will be given at Columbus Hall, under the auspices of the city mothers' bureau on the evening of the 24th inst. The program will include old-fashioned "square" dances and also the late steps.

"Divine Test of Manhood."

Rev. Charles F. Hunter, pastor of the Broadway Christian Church, will speak on "The Divine Test of Manhood" tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Brotherhood supper served in the Y.M.C.A. auditorium. All men are welcome.

Talk on Franchise.

Prof. J. W. Gregg of the University of California will lecture at the Polytechnic High School on "Soil Fertility," showing the actual cost in plant food and in growing such crops as sugar beets, lima beans, potatoes, walnuts, apricots, etc. News-comers will learn much about the actual soil conditions of Southern California. All persons interested are welcome.

Hotel Men Coming.

New York members of the Hotel Men's Association, en route to San Francisco for their annual meeting, will arrive here May 12 to remain two days, according to routing arrangements made yesterday by the Santa Fe. The same road will also have a special train party of Knights of the Macabees in here from Chicago, May 15. This party will remain here one day.

Iowa Reception.

The Iowa Association of Southern California will give a reception in honor of Senator and Mrs. A. B. Cummins and Judge and Mrs. C. C. Prouty, distinguished Iowa people, from 2 to 4 o'clock p.m., Thursday at the Alexandria. Senator Cummins was Governor of Iowa three terms before he was elected to his present high office. Judge Prouty is chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

No More Lotteries.

Issuance of tickets giving "chances" on automobiles and other prizes, is a violation of the State law against lotteries and continuance of the practice will bring prosecution. This was the edict of City Prosecutor Williams yesterday who was asked to investigate the matter by one faction in the local cigar dealers' fight for patronage. Mr. Williams said he learned that most of the dealers will do away with the practice immediately.

Aqueduct's Sanitary Features.

The Southern California section of the American Chemical Society will meet Thursday evening in the Cafe Hollenbeck. Exceeding the meeting dinner will be served at 8 o'clock. E. O. Slater, chemical engineer, who had charge of the chemical and bacteriological investigations recently concluded regarding the condition of the water coming from the Owens River, will present the paper of the evening, entitled "The Sanitary Features of the Los Angeles Aqueduct." The general public, friends and visiting chemists are cordially invited to attend.

"Old Heidelberg" Again.

So great was the success of the first presentation in German of "Old Heidelberg" at the Edison Building, last evening that the promoters who stage this means for increasing the German Red Cross fund will repeat the play next Sunday. The seat sale at the first performance caused an early appearance of the "S.R.C." sign. The excellence of the performance is largely due to the fact that some of those participating were students at Heidelberg or knew it well through various associations. The musical feature was rendered by the Gesangverein Fidelity.

SCIENCE TO AMUSE.

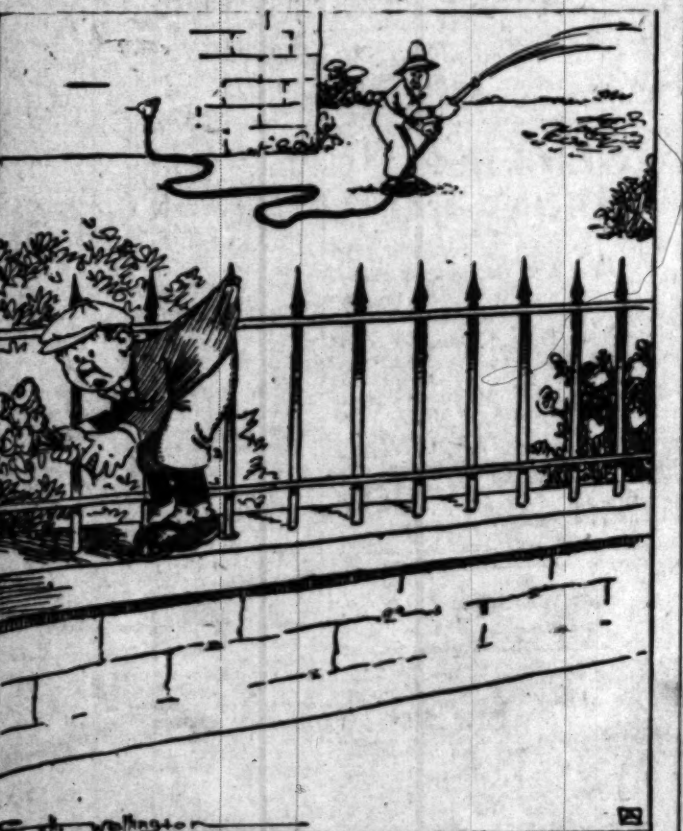

Gyroscopes and ultra-violet ray will be demonstrated at Entertainment by Inventor.

The gyroscopes and the ultra-violet ray will be demonstrated at an entertainment to be given next Monday evening at the Trinity Auditorium by Montville M. Wood, the American inventor. He will invite the largest man who will tackle the job to wrestle with the twenty-eight-pound gyro.

A motor car will also be demonstrated. Mr. Wood predicts a great future for the gyroscopes in this field.

Miss Aline M. Wood, the inventor's daughter, will handle the ultra-violet ray.

READY FOR VISIT OF TRAFFIC MEN.

TWO HUNDRED OF THEM ARE TO TOUR THE SOUTHLAND NEXT WEEK.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the 200 members of the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers, who are to tour the Southland, the coming week, were completed yesterday by the special committee, of which Passenger Traffic Manager Fee of the Southern Pacific is the head.

The visit will follow the convention of the organization in San Francisco Thursday and Friday, and will be immediately preceded by a leisurely trip down the Coast, stopping at Del Monte, Paso Robles and Santa Barbara. The organization includes vice-presidents in charge of traffic, passenger traffic managers and their assistants, and general passenger agents. No official of lower rank than the last is entitled to membership.

According to the itinerary, the special carrying the high railroad executives will arrive here at 6 p.m. Monday. The following day the members of the party will see the city and suburbs in automobiles as guests of the Chamber of Commerce and will be entertained at a barbecue at Universal City.

A trolley trip to Pasadena and to the beaches, with luncheon at the Hotel Goodwin Cafe, is part of the program for Wednesday. The next day the party will tour the orange belt, stopping at Riverside and Redlands, and will go on to San Diego for a three-day sojourn. The trolley trip will be as guests of the Pacific Electric.

THIS IS UNION'S CHOICEST SPOT.

CANADIAN RAILROAD MAN SAYS SO AFTER AN EXTENDED TRIP IN EAST.

"Southern California is the choicest bit of the United States," said Col. George H. Ham, attaché of the office of Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific, yesterday, following a tour of Florida and the South. Col. Ham will go to San Francisco this week to greet the Canadian Pacific's president on his arrival there to inspect the exposition, and will then return here to spend some weeks.

"Aside from some depression right at the opening of the war, Canada is prosperous," said Col. Ham. "As for the final result of the great conflict, the Canadian people doubt the coming out on top. Canada is also sending many thousands of soldiers to aid the mother country, while for seven different Canadian concerns, including my railroad, are turning out munitions of war at top speed."

Western Canada, according to Col. Ham, has a high standard of living, limited possibilities, just like our own Southwest, and has the same sure future.

"Give a country a climate like yours," said Col. Ham, "and a fertile soil and abundant resources, and you just can't keep it down. Southern California is a revelation to me, even after a extended tour of other choice spots of this country."

GIFT FOR SANATORIUM.

Jacob Schiff Presents Check for a Thousand to Jewish Consumptive Relief Association.

Jacob H. Schiff, the New York capitalist, recently at Pasadena, presented a check for $1000 to the Jewish Consumptive Relief Association of California, to be used in the interest of that body's sanatorium. Public acknowledgment of the gift was made yesterday by B. Cohen, president of the association.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Mrs. Bertha Corsetto of No. 7787 South Main street, went to the Red Cross Hospital yesterday to have a bullet wound in her hand dressed. She said that while cleaning a borrowed revolver, it had been fired accidentally.

NO BURNS ON EITHER BODY.

Glass-street Evidences are of Double Murder.

Fresh Facts Point Strongly to Jealous Rival.

Coroner Officially Declares Murray Did It.

The following individual facts regarding the O'Leary-Murray tragedy are cited by those reporting the double murder theory as being conclusive proof that a third person killed both man and woman:

There were no powder marks on either body.

On the evening of the killing a stranger was overheard to threaten to kill them both.

The relative positions of the bodies, the shotgun and the blood pool, in conjunction with the character of the wounds, were such as to make it appear improbable that either of the victims did the shooting.

The doors were closed when the shots were fired, as otherwise they would have been plainly heard all over the neighborhood. The front door was wide open the next morning.

Other men were known to be jealous of Murray's friendship with Mrs. O'Leary.

Two fresh knife cuts were found on Murray's head. A blood-stained knife was found in an adjoining room.

In spite of the fact that the Coroner late yesterday signed certificates of murder and suicide, further investigation of the double tragedy at No. 583 South Glass street placed fresh and graver difficulties in the way of the theory that James Murray shot Mrs. O'Leary and then himself.

Many points combat the theory of suicide, one of the principal ones being the entire absence of powder marks on either body. It is the two known by many friends of the two that Mrs. O'Leary had several admirers, extremely jealous of each other.

One of these alleged admirers was overheard by George G. Smith, a neighbor of Murray's, to make threats against the lives of the two on the fatal night.

On the morning after the tragedy the front door was standing wide open. The screen in front of the door was unfastened. If this door had been open when the two shots were fired, the entire neighborhood would have heard the reports and there would have been no confusion of sounds with the shouting from the North Broadway tunnel. Some one opened the door after the shots were fired.

THE BLOOD MARKS.

Murray's body was found reclining against the wall, directly under a window. Much blood was found on the floor and on his head. Yet six feet from the body stood a rocking chair. Under this chair, a blood-stained knife was found lying on the floor.

The shotgun was found lying half under the chair. It was lying in a position it would have assumed had it fallen naturally after a rebound. Blood had poured on top of the barrel, as well as below.

Two fresh knife cuts were found in Murray's head. A stained knife was found lying on the floor in the kitchen sink, twenty-five feet from the front room where the tragedy occurred. It had been placed there beside a dishpan filled with water and dirty dishes, not thrown promiscuously.

The two had been dead some time, when discovered. The blood was congealed and the bodies were in a state of partial decomposition. Neighbors had noticed the light burning continually in the room of death for several days.

Patrolman Lee F. Dawson, the first to enter the house after the discovery by Mr. Stone, made another thorough investigation of the premises yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Jack Murray, brother of the dead man.

BROTHER'S GUN.

Jack Murray said yesterday that the shotgun used in the tragedy had been purchased by him ten years ago in Oklahoma. He said that for the last three years, however, he had left this gun in his brother's care.

"I know that a former husband of Mrs. O'Leary, has been in Los Angeles for the last few weeks," Jack Murray said. "He is a painter living in Redondo Beach. My brother told me the last time I saw him that he had been around to see them."

Jack Murray said Mrs. O'Leary had been divorced several years, and he could not see why they should again start an acquaintance. Murray said the ex-husband might be able to tell who the strange young man was who made the threat Wednesday evening before the shooting.

When found, the dead man was fully dressed with the exception of his coat. He wore heavy shoes. The woman wore a kimono, skirt and stockings. Her shoes lay under the bed. Three fingers of her left hand were shot off.

CORONER'S THEORY.

The Coroner's office advances the theory that the man shot the woman and then took her on his lap in the chair. Having sat thus long enough to allow a saturation of the floor beneath the chair, the man arose and placed the woman on the bed. Then he committed suicide.

There was no trail of blood between the bed and chair. The woman had not moved off the pillow after being shot. W. C. Donnan, living in the next house, heard two shots Wednesday night. Only half a minute elapsed between the shots, he says.

Small shot marks in the walls and ceiling show that the man fell six feet from where that shot was fired. He slid down, with his back to the wall. If he had managed to stagger, an intervening six feet with a gaping wound in his head, he would probably have pitched forward on his face.

A friend of Murray told the Coroner that Murray had recently threatened to take his own life.

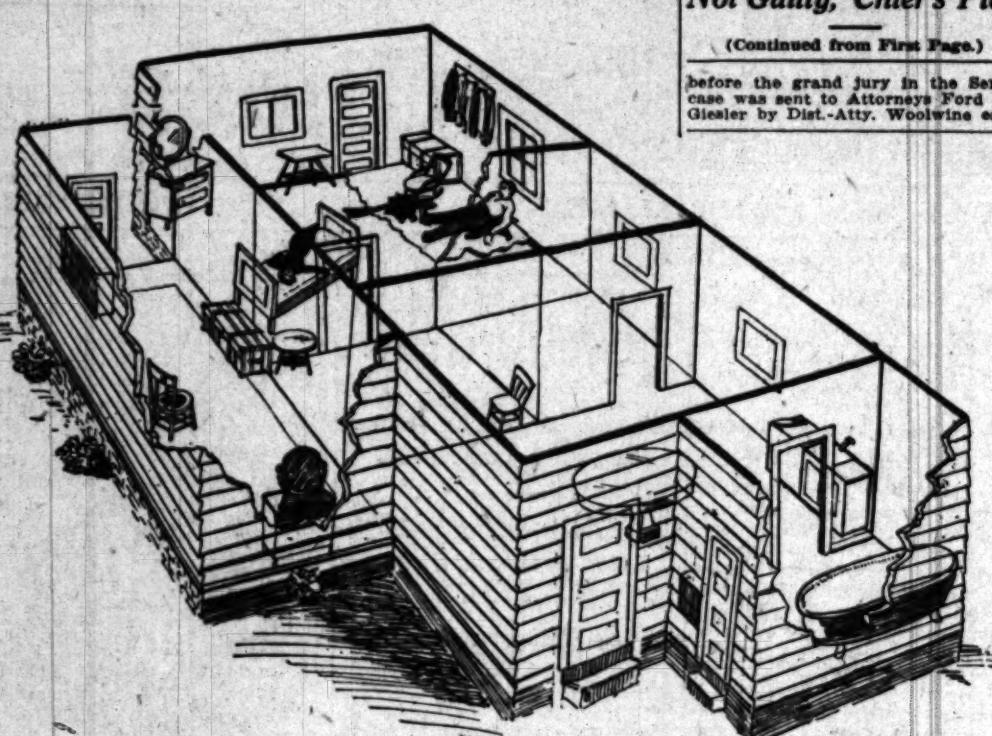

Diagram of the double tragedy on South Glass street.

Believed by the Coroner to have been a case of murder and suicide and by friends of the dead couple to have been the work of a third person who shot them both and endeavored to leave the impression that the man killed the woman and then himself. The absence of powder marks on either body, the position of the bodies with reference to blood stains, the fact that the knife with which the man had apparently been cut in a fight had been carried into the next room and that the doors were closed when the shooting occurred and opened shortly afterward are among the chief points supporting the double-murder theory.

Delightful.

Not Guilty, Chief's Plea.

before the grand jury in the Serkin case was sent to Attorney Ford and Giesler by Dist. Atty. Woolwine early

ent. It is understood Judge Taft granted the request.

Acting Chief of Police Flammer held a lengthy conference with Mr. Woolwine. When questioned about the case, Flammer said he had gone to see Mr. Woolwine upon some important business. It was reported his visit related to the case of Dave Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, charged with the destruction of the original Times Building and the killing of twenty men.

On the way to the County Jail the Despatch girl told Deputy Sheriff Woods that yesterday was her birthday and she is 21 years of age.

The grand jury this morning will continue its investigation of the Los Angeles investment company's affairs under the Elder regime.

BUST HIS REVERENCE.

"Spook" Haas Convicted of Fraud. Is Object of Unsolicited Attention by Victims in Bankruptcy Court.

"Ray" Oscar Haas, the local disciple of the Indian voodoo cult who was convicted in Judge Houser's court some time ago of securing money under false pretenses in connection with a fake Riverside land deal and sentenced to the penitentiary at Folsom, was represented in the Federal Court yesterday on involuntary bankruptcy proceedings.

Some time ago, Lizzie Schaad, who advanced $807 to Haas for some of the Riverside county land that was never delivered; Pearl and E. T. Flynn, who invested $1500 in the Haas agricultural experiment and saw nothing for their money; and Leon H. and Kate Sherwood, who allege they advanced $100 to Haas, filed a petition in the United States District Court praying that the smooth operator be declared a bankrupt.

The argument of the motion to strike the petition from the files of the court, argued on technical grounds before Judge Bledsoe, was denied emphatically. "It seems to be a case where Haas is a fraud and he did not make good his agreement," remarked the court.

BACK TO HONOLULU.

Hawaiian delegates in Congress engaged a special train yesterday for a cross-country dash homeward, leaving Washington the 20th inst. The train will be handled over the Santa Fe from Chicago to San Francisco and will be made up of solid Pullman equipment.

Chief Sebastian appeared before the grand jury yesterday morning. He was closeted with the jurors about half an hour. He was followed by Dr. Harriet G. Prosser and Mrs. Muir, a juvenile hall nurse, George Walcott, a hotel clerk at the Hotel Waldorf, Fifth and Main streets, was the last witness at the morning session. It is understood that the morning session was called to determine if Victoria Despatch was offered a reward to retract her accusations against the Chief.

TWO CONFERENCE.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine, W. L. Harthorn, secretary of the grand jury, and Judge Wood held a brief conference yesterday afternoon. None of those present would reveal the nature of the discussion. From Judge Wood's chambers Mr. Woolwine went to Judge Taft's chambers, where another secret conference was held. It was believed Mr. Woolwine requested Judge Taft not to issue any order taking the Serkin girl away from the persons in whose custody she is at present.

Not Guilty, Chief's Plea.

before the grand jury in the Serkin case was sent to Attorney Ford and Giesler by Dist. Atty. Woolwine early

ent. It is understood Judge Taft granted the request.

Acting Chief of Police Flammer held a lengthy conference with Mr. Woolwine. When questioned about the case, Flammer said he had gone to see Mr. Woolwine upon some important business. It was reported his visit related to the case of Dave Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, charged with the destruction of the original Times Building and the killing of twenty men.

On the way to the County Jail the Despatch girl told Deputy Sheriff Woods that yesterday was her birthday and she is 21 years of age.

The grand jury this morning will continue its investigation of the Los Angeles investment company's affairs under the Elder regime.

BUST HIS REVERENCE.

"Spook" Haas Convicted of Fraud. Is Object of Unsolicited Attention by Victims in Bankruptcy Court.

"Ray" Oscar Haas, the local disciple of the Indian voodoo cult who was convicted in Judge Houser's court some time ago of securing money under false pretenses in connection with a fake Riverside land deal and sentenced to the penitentiary at Folsom, was represented in the Federal Court yesterday on involuntary bankruptcy proceedings.

Some time ago, Lizzie Schaad, who advanced $807 to Haas for some of the Riverside county land that was never delivered; Pearl and E. T. Flynn, who invested $1500 in the Haas agricultural experiment and saw nothing for their money; and Leon H. and Kate Sherwood, who allege they advanced $100 to Haas, filed a petition in the United States District Court praying that the smooth operator be declared a bankrupt.

The argument of the motion to strike the petition from the files of the court, argued on technical grounds before Judge Bledsoe, was denied emphatically. "It seems to be a case where Haas is a fraud and he did not make good his agreement," remarked the court.

BACK TO HONOLULU.

Hawaiian delegates in Congress engaged a special train yesterday for a cross-country dash homeward, leaving Washington the 20th inst. The train will be handled over the Santa Fe from Chicago to San Francisco and will be made up of solid Pullman equipment.

Chief Sebastian appeared before the grand jury yesterday morning. He was closeted with the jurors about half an hour. He was followed by Dr. Harriet G. Prosser and Mrs. Muir, a juvenile hall nurse, George Walcott, a hotel clerk at the Hotel Waldorf, Fifth and Main streets, was the last witness at the morning session. It is understood that the morning session was called to determine if Victoria Despatch was offered a reward to retract her accusations against the Chief.

TWO CONFERENCE.

Dist. Atty. Woolwine, W. L. Harthorn, secretary of the grand jury, and Judge Wood held a brief conference yesterday afternoon. None of those present would reveal the nature of the discussion. From Judge Wood's chambers Mr. Woolwine went to Judge Taft's chambers, where another secret conference was held. It was believed Mr. Woolwine requested Judge Taft not to issue any order taking the Serkin girl away from the persons in whose custody she is at present.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.
CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) Most amazing advances were made in steel stocks, with a demand seemingly unlimited. Not for years has this branch of industry shown the activity of the present time. Copper, too, is much stronger. Money is very free for investment, more than $1,000,000 in one deal being used in buying bonds of a railroad in the East in a general-financing scheme. The steady increase of local business is reflected in bank clearings, which were $225,000 greater than the same day a year ago.
 (Abroad.) The German bank reports an increase of nearly $10,000,000 in gold for the past month, despite heavy withdrawals for war purposes. London exchange is weaker with remittances much heavier.
 (For details see financial pages.)

WHAT "SOCIETY" IS.
 Critics of society brings up the question, what is society, and nobody as yet has been wise enough to answer. It comes mighty near being a state of mind.

A SUCCESSFUL TEAM.
 Evangelists Brown and Curry are attracting big congregations at their revival in Pasadena. Mr. Brown's penetrating wit and Curry's golden tenor are certainly an excellent combination.

THE SAME AS LIVE ACTORS.
 A new motion-picture house in Los Angeles is to be supplied with a $50,000 road organ and will have a twenty-five-piece orchestra for each entertainment. If pictures are to cost as much as actors the stars may shine again.

LOTS OF PEOPLE THIS YEAR.
 An unprecedented number of people for this time of the year went to the beaches and hills on Sunday. This does not mean that the day was unusually hot, but only that Los Angeles has more people this year than previously.

NOT YET INVESTIGATED.
 In the play of "Montmartre" at the Burbank this week some of the little girl actresses do considerable straining over their cigarettes in the Moulin Rouge. Perhaps they would get along better if they tried corn silk or rose leaves.

NEEDED IN OUR BUSINESS.
 American cities are often being warned against the danger of the commercial spirit. Just the same if this country did not have a tremendously healthy and vigorous commercial disposition it never would have developed as it has done nor would it remain prosperous.

LIKE OLD TIMES.
 The banks at Tucson, Reno, Biebee and other mining centers report that hundreds of young men are coming to their cities, placing from one to two thousand dollars on deposit and then outfitting themselves for the hills on prospecting trips. This state of affairs has not prevailed before in over two years. It is an excellent sign.

SHOWING AMERICA UP.
 The United States Geological Survey has been making a topographical map of the United States since 1882. It is published in large atlas sheets convenient for reference. If an attempt is made to keep up with all new cities and its improvements in the West the government will not be through with its contract for some time to come. Of course the map has really been available for years and has been of great service to America.

MAKING A CLEAN START.
 One fact about the population of Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and the outlying districts of California, which always impresses the traveler, is the number of fine young college men who are at the head of mining enterprises and who come west with their wives to make a permanent home here. These young matrons are usually college women and a sturdy and level-headed generation is certain to be the result.

IN A NUTSHELL.
 The doctrine on which the labor unions stand is that no worker is entitled to earn a living unless he has a union card and has the approval of his walking delegate and votes according to the dictates of Sam Gompers. The doctrine on which employers of labor stand is the right to select their own employees, and to contract with them individually as to wages and hours of labor—subject to the laws. Which of these doctrines is most in consonance with the principle that every man is of right entitled to "his liberty and the pursuit of happiness?"

ENCOURAGING TRADE.
 While Arizona will appreciate the good words spoken for its prosperity and possibilities by Hugh McPherson, District Commercial Superintendent of the Western Union here, the message of this observing gentleman is really to Los Angeles. It is for this city to see that Los Angeles harbor is made the shipping port for all of Arizona's products. Kansas City and Chicago were both made by attracting unto themselves the trade of large outlying districts. Cattle and wheat were their making. Population is a good thing, but it must have some source of support.

WHY FREE PASSAGE THROUGH THE CANAL.

"Why," asks a pro-British writer in the New York Independent, "should an American ship going from Boston to San Francisco pass through the Panama Canal free of charge, while a British ship going from Jamaica to Vancouver would have to pay tolls?"

Why? Because a British ship would not, under American law, be permitted to trade between Boston and San Francisco.

Why? Because the Panama Canal does not receive a refund of one shilling of the tolls she has paid, while a British ship receives a rebate.

Why? Because we do not subsidize our ships, while Great Britain pays premiums to hers from keel to main truck.

Why? Because Great Britain pays her seamen less wages and feeds them less expensively than we pay and feed ours and has by so doing wrested from us a portion of our own carrying trade.

Why? Because it is our own canal, built by our own Goethals, with our own money, through our own territory.

Shall we not do as we will with our own?

Just wait until the Republican party regains power and watch it renege the freedom from tolls bill, notwithstanding the objections of His Majesty's government.

FARMERS IN THE SOUTHWEST.

According to the testimony taken before the Committee on Industrial Relations the farmers of Texas are not taking joy rides in autos. W. S. Noble, secretary of the Land League of Texas, a tenant farmers' organization, testified that two-thirds of the tenant farmers in that State are economically submerged. Two tenants in his district were in such distress that they were offering to give their children away.

Another witness testified that out of a $1600 crop the tenant got $223 and the landlord $378. Still another witness gave evidence that he produced 4500 bales of cotton and several thousand bushels of corn. That, as a result, he is $700 in debt, without a special feature has been the surgical treatment by which in many cases men go horribly injured as to be the merest wrecks have been "made over" and thus fitted for a fresh start in life.

The United States is neutral in this war and the American people quite properly refuse to take sides. But American doctors and American nurses are doing deeds of kindness and mercy in which the sick and wounded soldiers and the pestilence-stricken people of all nations are beneficiaries.

What nobler role can Americans play than that of ministers of mercy to the suffering of all nations?

AMERICANS AS MINISTERS OF MERCY.

The horrors of war are multifarious. Among them is the suffering due to wounds and disease. Modern medical and surgical skill has done very much to mitigate these evils; but in a conflict as far-flung and involving so many millions of persons as that now raging it is impossible to promptly meet the pressing demands. Some of the stories told of scenes following a big battle, when thousands of wounded need instant attention, are harrowing in the extreme. Yet there is no doubt that the doctors in all the armies are doing the best they can. Conditions inevitably arise wherein they cannot cope with all the demands for their services.

As to disease, it often makes fearful ravages, not only among the soldiers, but in localities where war has devastated the country and left the people exposed to epidemics of one kind and another.

Dr. Donnelly went to have had a peculiarly unhappy experience in this line. Sir Thomas Lipton, the well-known English yachtsman, has made a trip to Serbia and reported on what he found there. He says he saw victims of typhus fever crawling along the road, bodies lying unburied in cemeteries, hospitals crowded with patients whose victims of typhus, typhoid, dysentery and smallpox were thrown together indiscriminately and death was doing its work in many ways. The deplorable condition was due to circumstances, not to intentional neglect or incapacity. The simple fact was that there were not enough doctors to meet the emergency, although those present worked with unflinching zeal. Some of them fell victims to the strain involved in the care of the sick. Among them was an American physician, Dr. James F. Donnelly, of the Red Cross Society, who, as related by Sir Thomas, died like a hero and a martyr.

Dr. Donnelly went to a city in the heart of a Serbian district where conditions were among the worst. He improvised a hospital out of an old tobacco factory where, with six other American doctors, three Serbian physicians and twelve American Red Cross nurses, he worked wonders in curing the people until he succumbed. And Dr. Donnelly may be mentioned as one of many Americans who have unselfishly devoted time, professional talent and valuable practical experience to the service of humanity.

Sir Thomas dwells especially on American efficiency in handling the sick and wounded in the Old World. He says the best hospital in the Balkans is that at Belgrade, where an American doctor is in charge, having 2800 patients to care for.

Similar reports have come from other quarters. There is no limit to the praise given to the American hospital in Paris, maintained wholly at American expense, and where the entire staff of doctors and nurses is composed of Americans. Distinguished French commanders have given enthusiastic testimony to the wonderful results attained at this hospital because of the skill and care of those connected with the institution. The sick and wounded have shown an amazing proportion of recoveries, and a special feature has been the surgical treatment by which in many cases men go horribly injured as to be the merest wrecks have been "made over" and thus fitted for a fresh start in life.

The utility companies have on the whole, and particularly during later years, under the newer and more efficient methods of management and financing, fairly justified the faith of the large and small investors. Banks, insurance companies and others who have provided the indispensable and enormous quantity of capital. Despite the hostile and fallacious movements against them their economic vitality has been so evident and the courage, initiative and resourcefulness of their operations so persistent, that they have clearly demonstrated their commercial soundness.

Government reports show that 95 per cent. of all the publicly-marketed electrical energy in this country is produced by privately-owned companies and that 99 per cent. of all the manufactured gas of commerce is made and sold by such companies. Not more than three of our 900 or more electric railways are public-owned, while the number of municipally-operated telephone exchanges is so insignificant that no one has taken the trouble to count them.

It doesn't do a married man any good to know it all. He never gets a chance to tell it.

The photograph that a girl's own mother wouldn't be able to recognize is always the one that a girl thinks looks most like her. Some people seem to imagine that a man who confesses that he likes the efforts of House Wagner better than those of Wagner, the composer, is a lowdown.

Father's idea of disciplining the children is to hawl mother out every time one of the kids does anything wrong.

ARE WE FACING A WAR CYCLE?

BY CHARLES FRANKLIN THWING,
 President Western Reserve University.

THE world has usually been throughout its history passing into a war cycle or passing out of one. The centuries have been centuries of blood; the times of peace have been decades. The seventeenth century had its Thirty Years' War. The eighteenth century had its One Hundred Years' War. It began with Marlborough and ended with Napoleon. The nineteenth century—the century of science, of discovery, of achievement—was a century of war, civil, national, international; Waterloo, the Crimea, Gettysburg, and Sedan are bloody names. Man seems to be a fighter rather than a pacifist. Truces are usually armistices. Treaties of peace usually result in being preparation for further hostilities.

Is the present world-war to last? Are the present hate to persist? Are the nations to go on learning war and transforming peace-making into a science? The number of peace societies is great. One thing is most common—the past, would seem to impress the horrible fact that again the world is entering into a war cycle. Yet one shrinks from the historical conclusion.

What can be done to remove such a condition from the more than possible conditions of the future? One thing most comprehensive can be done: It is found in all the people of all the nations of the world thinking, feeling, speaking, arguing for, proclaiming peace. The number of peace societies is great. One thing is most common—the past, would seem to impress the horrible fact that again the world is entering into a war cycle. Yet one shrinks from the historical conclusion.

But a second thing, possibly still more important, can be done. It lies in the breeding of a generation of peace-loving people. There are nations whose purpose and method have been to breed warriors. Children have been taught the glory of war. Their eyes have seen its pomp and circumstance. They have been obliged to enter military service as recruits and to serve in the militia for a year or more. They have, on returning to private life, known that they were liable to be called to the colors at a moment. Their thoughts have been of war. Their most highly-praised national achievements have been of war. Their orators have preached the duty of war. Even their public have resorted to the truths of the imprecatory psalms. The result is that nations have, through the training of a generation, become normally warlike, bellicose, hellish.

All this may and should be changed. The duty for children to be taught the glory of peace, for young men to be trained in the duty of seeking peace, for those in mature life to be impressed with the glory of peace, for the whole nation indeed to be saturated with the duty and the glory and the beneficence of peace. Such a breeding of a generation would help to transform this world.

This method is feasible. The breeding of animals illustrates its practicability. We are able to breed the wolflike qualities out of dogs. We are able to breed the vicious qualities out of horses. Difficulties there are in breeding a generation of peace-loving people, but if not by a generation, yet by the regeneration of feeling, thinking, choosing peace, and of all that goes along with peace, a nation and the nations can be removed from the peril of the war cycle which may impend.

Difficulties there are in breeding a generation of peace-loving people, but if not by a generation, yet by the regeneration of feeling, thinking, choosing peace, and of all that goes along with peace, a nation and the nations can be removed from the peril of the war cycle which may impend.

Another one of the most important things that we can do to remove such a condition from the more than possible conditions of the future is to breed a generation of peace-loving people. There are nations whose purpose and method have been to breed warriors. Children have been taught the glory of war. Their eyes have seen its pomp and circumstance. They have been obliged to enter military service as recruits and to serve in the militia for a year or more. They have, on returning to private life, known that they were liable to be called to the colors at a moment. Their thoughts have been of war. Their most highly-praised national achievements have been of war. Their orators have preached the duty of war. Even their public have resorted to the truths of the imprecatory psalms. The result is that nations have, through the training of a generation, become normally warlike, bellicose, hellish.

All this may and should be changed. The duty for children to be taught the glory of peace, for young men to be trained in the duty of seeking peace, for those in mature life to be impressed with the glory of peace, for the whole nation indeed to be saturated with the duty and the glory and the beneficence of peace. Such a breeding of a generation would help to transform this world.

This method is feasible. The breeding of animals illustrates its practicability. We are able to breed the wolflike qualities out of dogs. We are able to breed the vicious qualities out of horses. THOUSANDS DANCE AT ROYAL BALL.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC EMPLOYEES GIVE FIRST BIG EVENT FOR FIESTA QUEEN.

A royal assembly ball, attended by 6000 persons, was given last night at the Shrine Auditorium by the employees of the Pacific Electric in honor of Miss Sibyl Mather, the fiesta queen. This was the first large social event attended by her since her official coronation, March 27.

C. H. Burnett was master of ceremonies. He was assisted by N. B. Vickrey, manager of Miss Mather's successful campaign. The royal party was composed of Miss Mather, the queen; vice-queens, Miss Martha Dietrich and Miss Sara Melton; ladies-in-waiting, Maids of honor, pages, flower girls, banner bearer and crown bearer. The dancing was preceded by the following ceremonies:

Concert by City and County Band, entrance of Miss Dietrich, vice-queen; entrance of Miss Mather, the queen; entrance of the queen and her court. Immediately following the ceremonies the queen held an informal reception at the foot of her throne. Dancing began at 8 o'clock and lasted until 11:30. A special feature of the programme was an exhibition of modern ballroom dances by Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Payne.

MILLION CLUB BALL.

The Million Club will give a ball in the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow evening in honor of the candidates for municipal offices. Many of the candidates have accepted invitations. A special announcement of the ball was made last night at the royal assembly ball given at Shrine Auditorium in honor of Miss Sibyl Mather, fiesta queen. Mrs. L. L. Roome is chairman of the Committee on Arrangements. She is assisted by Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, president of the club; Mrs. W. C. Tyler, vice-president; Mrs. E. A. Davis, Mrs. Augusta Sander, Mrs. James Hudson, Mrs. James Westpheling, Mrs. R. Lafford, Mrs. D. C. McCann, Gessner Williams, Prof. E. L. Larkin, B. A. Davis, W. C. Tyler, and J. W. Wetmore. Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Payne will give an exhibition of fancy ballroom dancing.

ON THE STAGE JEW.

William Robyns will speak this evening at a meeting of Los Angeles Lodge No. 487, Independent Order B'nai B'rith, on "The Evolution of the Stage Jew." The meeting will be at the lodge room, No. 111 West Seventeenth street. To discourage obnoxious stage caricatures of the Hebrew, an organization has been formed under the auspices of the L.O.B.B.

JITNEY ACCIDENTS.

Manuel Castoriano, a schoolboy living at No. 426 North Broadway, reversed the usual order yesterday when he rode into the rear of a jitney bus in North Broadway. His bicycle was smashed and the boy suffered numerous bruises and a broken leg. Other jitney bus accidents of the day injured E. S. Good of Pomona and J. T. Quinn of No. 143 South Constance street, Los Angeles. Mr. Good, who is president and general manager of the Eldora Oil Company, was riding on the running board of a bus when he was struck by a Grand-avenue street car, and thrown to the pavement. Severe bruises and a cut that extended from eye to chin, were his lot. Mr. Quinn suffered a broken leg when he stepped from a slowly-moving bus at Broadway and First street.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THE week's social calendar opened auspiciously with a beautifully appointed dinner-dance given by Mr. and Mrs. William Irving Hollingsworth last night at the Los Angeles Country Club, in honor of Mrs. Emily Benedict, who came down from San Francisco last week and Mrs. Margaret Buckner Stevenson, house guests of the Hollingsworths. Covers were laid for 100 guests. Marguerite Stevens, who had been in the past several years, but came to America to escape the horrors of war. Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. L. T. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Alexander Barrett and Mrs. Benedict motored through the chateau country of Paris in company only one year ago, and are greatly enjoying the renewed visit in sunny California. Assisting the Hollingsworths at last night's charming affair were Messrs. and Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, J. F. Burns, J. T. Fitzgerald, G. Birkel, Howard Scholer, Harry E. Coffin, Alexander Barrett, John Newton Russell and W. W. Johnston.

Today's Tea. Mrs. Emily Benedict will be extended a pretty social courtesy this afternoon by Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, who is entertaining at Beverly Hills Hotel. The function is to be a handsomely appointed tea.

Miss Hargreaves to Marry. Following a delightful pleasant five hundred party last Wednesday afternoon at the Matt Hargreaves home on No. 1515 Harold Way, Hollywood, pretty Miss Rachel Hargreaves announced her betrothal to William Rodney Pearson of No. 2527 Dalton avenue. Innumerable butterflies in their gorgeous colorations done on saucy wings fluttered happily about among the pink and white blossoms which beautified the parlors, and the secret of the interesting engagement of the popular hostess and the wedding—June 2—was hidden in the wings of the butterfly which perched upon a favor basket at each cover of the handsomely appointed table, done into a miniature garden with lakes, bridges, sword and flowers. Miss Hargreaves is a member of the Un Koo So sorority of Hollywood and extremely popular in the younger set, while the groom-to-be is a Stanford Alpha Tau Omega member and well-known automobile man here. Their marriage will be an important event in the social circle of admirers. Guests at the betrothal event were Miss Lillian Grass, Miss Irene Combs, Miss Lillian Grass, Mrs. J. Raymond Banks, Mrs. J. William Melin, Mrs. Arthur Lewis Hill, Miss Phyllis Richardson, Miss Mabel Colt, Miss Xatyle Clark, Mrs. Paul Jeffers, Miss Xatyle Clark, Mrs. Paul Jeffers, Mrs. J. Barrett Hanawalt, Miss Mabel Lewis, Miss Harriet Barker, Miss Arleen Washburn, Miss Marjorie Moss, Mrs. Ned Phillips of Denver, Mrs. O. V. Miller, Mrs. George Pearson, Mrs. J. F. Burns, Mrs. of Alhambra and Mrs. George Hold.

Burlington avenue has issued invitations for a matinee party at the Orpheum and luncheon at the Alexandria next Saturday.

For Tomorrow. Over 400 society matrons and belles are hidden by Mrs. Howard E. Huntington to tea tomorrow afternoon, at the palatial Oak Knoll home of the hostess in Pasadena. Forty prominent society leaders are to assist in receiving. The many alluring out-door nooks are to offer inviting rendezvous, and tea will be served beneath the shade of the trees and flower-covered loggias and pergolas, as well as indoors.

At Beverly. Mrs. Schuyler William Strunk is to entertain at a very large and handsomely appointed luncheon at Beverly Hills Hotel tomorrow afternoon. Invitations to nearly 200 guests. The luncheon will be played later. Assistant hostess will be Mrs. W. A. Morehouse. Mrs. Judge Rives of Downey, Mrs. Edward Moore of Indiana, Mrs. W. R. Rose, Mrs. W. A. Morehouse, Mrs. Page, Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle, Mrs. Viola Jeffries, Mrs. Malone Joyce, Mrs. Gilbert Rector, Mrs. Milford Mayberry, Misses Margaret and Esther Dent.

Mrs. Booth's Luncheon.

Mrs. Willis Booth gave a beautiful luncheon yesterday, at which fifty ladies were present. The colorings were rich and unusual, shading from browns to blues in the decorative motifs. Spanish iris formed a central adornment at each table, where were seated either eight or ten guests, rich antique holders containing the flowers. The tones were accentuated by combining yellows and browns in tulips, which fell in graceful arrangement from the gorgeous blossoms to the covers. Hostesses at the tables were Mrs. John F. Jones, Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori, Mrs. Frank P. Flint, Mrs. Dean Mason, Mrs. Willoughby Rollman and Mrs. Horace Wing. Following the elaborate menu, Mrs. Wing read delightfully from one of George Bernard Shaw's much-discussed dramas. The handsomely appointed luncheon was attended by many society leaders of the city.

Pretty Dinner Compliment. Senator and Mrs. John D. Works entertained at a beautifully appointed dinner Saturday evening at their home, No. 842 South Kingsley drive. At the table were Senator and Mrs. Works, and son, of Massachusetts; Gen. C. and Mrs. Bellows, Judge Lewis R. and Mrs. Works, Mrs. Blanche K. Corby and the hosts.

Dispersed Hospitality. A charming affair of Saturday evening was the dinner party at which Mrs. M. L. L. and Mrs. L. L. L. were hosts at the Beverly Hills Hotel, honoring their cousins, Misses Howell and Thomas Bellows. Six dining tables were beautifully decorated with cut glass bowls of roses, surrounded by a wreath of orange blossoms, and favors were miniature of Niagara Falls done in papier mache. Hand-painted pictures of the Niagara River marked covers for sixty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Woolf will leave this week for Australia, where Mr. Woolf owns large tracts of land, and upon their return will look for a suitable place to build a home in Los Angeles. Miss Howell and Mr. Carwell will make the trip with them, but will return by way of the eastern coast to New York.

Prominent Easterners. Commendore Frank R. Eldridge, U. S. N. (retired), and Mrs. Eldridge, are among the distinguished visitors which the exponents have drawn to California. They have been enjoying the sights in and about Los Angeles for several days. Their hosts are Mrs. M. C. Thompson of No. 263 South Wilton place entertained at dinner in company with Mrs. Eldridge. Beside the guest of honor and hostess covers were laid for Mrs. John W. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Von Blon, Miss Dorothy Parry-Jones, Mrs. May McDonald Hope and Edwin F. Schaller. Commendore and Mrs. Eldridge were honored guests at a dinner given by Capt. and Mrs. Hamilton Huntington Miner also during their stay. They leave today for San Diego, and from there will proceed in leisurely fashion up the coast, stopping at Santa Barbara and other towns en route to San Francisco, where they will remain several weeks. Their home is Hartford, Ct., but they have been touring the world five years, traveling 22,000 miles by automobile in Europe.

Coming Event. One of the delightful affairs of this week will be the luncheon Thursday at which Mrs. Sidney Dickson will be hostess at the Beverly Hills Hotel. Covers will be laid for twelve.

At the Beach. Mrs. Ross B. Buller and son, F. W. Buller, of this city are now making their home at the Merritt Hotel, Ocean Park. It will be remembered that Mrs. Buller is the widow of the late Gen. Buller, who gained distinction during the Boer war and who was awarded the Victoria Cross by the Queen of England. The happy lady will entertain in a short time, honoring her many friends in Los Angeles.

Well Known Here. Many friends of Miss Hazel Genevieve Ryan and Thomas George Glavey no doubt will be surprised to hear of their marriage at St. Vincent's Church the 7th inst., by the Rev. Father F. J. Depta.

Sorority Dance. Among the many enjoyable affairs of Easter week was a dance given by the young ladies of Rho Kappa Sigma Sorority at the Young Monday evening. Present were Mrs. E. A. Gibbs, Jr., and Misses Marie Louise Schabauer, Mary E. Houston of this city, which took place at St. John's Saturday morning, was followed by a dainty wedding breakfast at the Elmer. The happy bride and groom left immediately afterwards on their honeymoon and will visit Santa Barbara, Del Monte and San Francisco. Both are graduates of Amherst College.

IS NOT HAPPY COMBINATION.

Critic Finds "Sign of the Rose" Bad Art.

Beban and Film Would be Happier Apart.

Alexander Clever as Ever in Mystery Act.

BY HENRY CHRISTIAN WARNACK

There probably never was a better vaudeville sketch than the "Sign of the Rose" by George Beban, nor a better actor for the leading role than his author. I have seen it three times and it never yet has missed me with me.

Beban lives the place, with all the fire and pathos of a great nature. He passes the very bounds of art in his supreme artistry.

When he picks up those scissors and faces the detector with the gun, in the flower shop where he is begging for one rose to lay on the breast of his little daughter, dead in a tenement squalor, the victim of a rich man's automobile, I have never yet been able to remember that this was only a play and I have never yet been able to remember that this was only a play and I have never yet been able to remember that this was only a play.

To me Beban is one of the great artists of America. I think perhaps the only one of his kind in the world. He is a man of the American stage.

This ought to make it perfectly clear that the "Sign of the Rose" is not a play, but a masterpiece of art.

As far as I am concerned the combination is not good art. If I were either the pictures or Beban I would not want to be combined with the other. Either the pictures or Beban would be excellent alone, but together they are a condemnation to the worst of either, either devotedly or profanely.

In the first place, a one-act play written in one act because, that is the proper length of the story, and the actor is not allowed to be too much. No body wants his feelings harrowed through four acts when the shock can be just as effectively given in one act.

It was Poe's theory that a great poem could only be of such length as could be read in a single sitting, and a great play cannot be of such length as to last an hour. This theory takes in the rule of most men and women, and is a violation in the extension of the "Sign of the Rose" from one to four acts.

My objection to the play in its present form, whether on the screen or acted out by the persons of the cast.

In the second place, the staging of the one act last night was ruined by lifting the stage to the height of the picture frame, and narrowing the frame's width. This destroys the perspective for the audience, limits the scope of the play, and very much interferes with the acoustics.

If Mr. Beban could sit in the audience and watch himself of the stage, he would never again perform on a platform ten feet too high and fifty feet too narrow.

The pictures themselves are exceedingly faithful in detail and wonderfully effective. They represent the summit of motion picture art.

Mason. "The Great Alexander" is the good old Alexander who entertained us for two weeks at the Burbank theatre as long ago as 1925. He must indeed be a true magician, and his magic must be a true magic, because he came to us last night with more youth and vigor than when he first came to us.

Just to have kept young for nearly a quarter of a century is a guarantee of quality, not of quantity.

He has managed to surround himself with fairly good vaudeville performers in the past. There is a girl flutist of exceptional talent, and a trio of boys who sing acceptably. They combine effectively with the usual sleight-of-hand mysteries, and conclude with answers to questions submitted to him, apparently having no difficulty either in reading the interrogations without unsealing the envelopes containing them, or in solving the problems offered therein. He is to make a specialty of this feature at his exclusive matinee for women Friday.

Orpheum. Sometimes it's hard for a musical comedy or other "full-stage" star to adapt herself to the vaudeville. But Blanche Ring this week at the Orpheum seems thoroughly acclimated. "Oh, Papa" is a delightful force by Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf, in which Blanche Ring plays the part of a popular chorus girl who succeeds in convincing each of two old duffer admirers that the other is her papa from St. Louis.

Of course, her role gives her a chance to exclaim: "Why, if here isn't a piano in my apartment," or words to that effect, and sing an amusing Irish ditty. Also, the papa gives an excuse for ballroom dancing.

Naturally, it's Miss Ring's untutored humor, beauty and pep that make the act without mentioning that delightful comedian, Charles J. Winniger, who makes a hit at "The Walker from Chicago," whose dancing and fooling are quite the best thing of the sort the Orpheum has had in a long while.

Nellie Filmore, as Claudia's colored maid, is deserving of special mention. There are a lot of amusing lines, as when an admirer plaintively asks of Claudia, "Why don't you invite me to one of your weddings?" And one of the ancient admirers of Claudia, "Why don't you invite me to one of your weddings?"

And one of the ancient admirers of Claudia, "Why don't you invite me to one of your weddings?"

And one of the ancient admirers of Claudia, "Why don't you invite me to one of your weddings?"

And one of the ancient admirers of Claudia, "Why don't you invite me to one of your weddings?"

scored a tremendous success with Howard's songs and Miss McCane's beauty and gowns. Miss McCane also has a wink which makes Miss Fitzgerald look like that of a drug-store brownie. The act was illustrated with motion pictures. But the house enjoyed itself the most when it was asking for some of Howard's old songs and listening to "Hello, My Honey," "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," "Good-by, My Lady Love," and others.

Mrs. Donald Ayer got over nicely in several classical songs, and plucked album favorites, and it's a delight to record that she uses no scenery-chewing gestures nor does she wear any Tiffany cracked lace.

Lambert does his former act of imitating great musicians in make-up and playing their selections on their favorite instruments. He made a pleasing impression, even if he did snuff it a bit by playing a Schubert selection in a List make-up.

Sonia Baraban and Charles C. Orsini are de luxe ballroom dancers, the most graceful and pleasing we have seen for some time. The Barabarolle from the "Case of Hoffman" was a delicious bit of thistle-down pantomime.

"Benita" is a beautiful milk-white equine, trimmed in silver and blue, who (surs) you'd say "who" about any creature as clever as Benita can spell, add and subtract, and shoot burglars.

Kremolina and Darras Brothers have the closing spot on the bill. They have a pretty-dressed acrobatic act. They do their work neatly, their thrilling head-balancing feats on the trapeze, keeping the audience seated until the last minute.

Maria Lo's Porcelaina pleases greatly, this, their second week here.

Pantages. The old songs of our grandmothers days always charm, especially when given by artists of the ability which Pierce and Roslyn possess. They also render popular songs in a manner which does not fail to please all tastes. They were forced to sing repeated encores before the appreciative "old-timers" at Pantages were satisfied.

The "Outside Inn" is a tabloid musical comedy aiming to supply speedy potpourri of music, mirth, song and dance, but unfortunately fails to succeed in amusing and captivating its audience.

Mesmes Clark and company offer the clever scenic sensation, "On Crocodile Isle," in which they perform baffling contortions of the most complicated description. The opening of the scene is quite effective.

Mr. and Mrs. Roby's new dramatic Hebraic comedy, "One Hundred Gents on the Dollar," which is interspersed with pathos. The utter disregard of modern dramatic technique shown by the author of this sketch and the rather inferior acting to large degrees mar this otherwise interesting production.

"Bright as Daylight in a refined comedy act entitled, 'The Love Insurance Agent,' incidentally shows the evolution of a comedy act from the simple to the more complex, and the more complex to the more complex.

The Williams Brothers and one reel of motion pictures round out the bill.

Empire. Clarence Vance, popular comedian and singer, headlines the Empire bill, and gets over splendidly. He is a Rock of pretty gowns, and his voice charms as of old.

Caspar Rivoli, over at the Empire, impersonates in a one-act play an infuriated woman, a philanthropist, a husband, a Latin waiter, a flirtatious chorus girl, and an obnoxious policeman, and changes his characters so rapidly that the entire audience finds Broese chased.

CITY HIGH SCHOOLS IN FOOTBALL TANGLE STILL.

Principals to Meet Again and Try to Decide on Either American Game or Rugby — In Case They Cannot Agree Each School Will Play its Own Brand—Manual and L.A. Start Spring Training.

LOS ANGELES high schools are threatened with a dearth of football for next fall unless the situation that now prevails is cleared up. Football training has begun in two of the largest of the city schools and as yet it is unknown to the schools themselves whether they will play the American game or football next winter or the Rugby.

Two of the institutions, Los Angeles High School and Lincoln High, seem to have determined on their games; and their determinations are well for the school on Graveney Hill has chosen the American game, and Lincoln High has selected Rugby.

Mr. Housh of Los Angeles High and Mr. Kinney of Lincoln High, principals of the schools, were emphatic in their statements yesterday as to their choice of football, though both regretted that the city league should be divided.

TOILETS PRACTICE. Out at Manual Arts Coach Fritch had his football men out for practice yesterday afternoon. They were put through Rugby tactics. Fritch has a leading coach in the Rugby game and so has Dr. Wilson, principal of the institution. However, Dr. Wilson stated yesterday:

"Manual Arts is not determined fully on which game she will play next year. We will do as the other schools of the city do. If the others decide on Rugby, we will play Rugby. If the American game is chosen, Manual will play that. If some play one and others the other we propose to put out our own brand of football. We have Coach Fritch to train the Rugby men and Coach Lida to handle the American game."

ON FENCE. Hollywood is also on the fence, according to the report of the school institution, though he says that the school is not large enough to support two teams. Hollywood will not hold close of the baseball season their athletic field will be planned to grow and all use of it cut off. Coach Webster of Hollywood is known to be a strong American football man and the suburbanites are lined up with the American game supporters.

Polytechnic High, according to Coach Hazlett, is waiting on Principal Dunn's word before beginning their football work. Very little spring practice of any sort is to be indulged in. Dunn has not yet expressed his final opinion as to which game will be played by his school, but a month ago came out strongly for Rugby. Coach Hazlett also favors Rugby slightly and stated yesterday that the majority of the men playing were Rugby enthusiasts. Polytechnic may therefore be set with the stand-patters playing Rugby.

FOR AMERICAN. Coach Featherstone of Los Angeles is positive that his institution is to play the American game only. He has started spring training with a vengeance and the uniforms for the old game, padded jerseys, helmets, head guards and all, will be given out to the men on Wednesday.

Principal Housh of L. A. High has long been in favor of the American game. He explained yesterday that the matter of returning to the old game was a matter of the principals of the five city high schools, with those of Wilmington, Gardena, and San Pedro, must be discussed the problem, but finally reported to Supt. J. H. Francis that they were unable to agree on the same game and were divided as follows: Los Angeles High, Polytechnic, Manual Arts, and American football; Los Angeles High, Hollywood, Wilmington, Gardena and San Pedro.

Mr. Housh suggested to the superintendent that a reconsideration of the question be allowed the principals at a later date. On this suggestion they will meet next week to fight it out again and if they still disagree they will endeavor to arrange such a hard-hat schedule for next winter's football as will best suit the scattered teams.

DIFFERENT SIDES. Supt. Burt Kinney of Lincoln High School made the claim for American support of his Rugby standpoint. The American game can be learned in a year or two whereas the Rugby game takes several seasons for a squad to learn the scientific points of Rugby. Coach Featherstone argues in defense of the American game: "There is too much chance for the players to get hurt by the Rugby game. The American game is absolutely open and clean in that respect. The American style has changed in the last few years, employing much of the scientific passing rushes and other line positions. Rugby has added to the fascinating formations of the old days."

CARDINALS LOOK LIKE CONTENDERS TO ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—When the Cardinals put up their pennant sport last summer, jogged along with the Boston Braves and New York Giants until the last two weeks of the season and in the end caused unequal excitement in St. Louis and wherever they visited, the Federal Leagueers decided Miller Huggins and his family were in their path of success. The plot was laid to raid the third place; to remove several stars and otherwise cripple the local National League. The Cardinals needed recognition in St. Louis. They could not get it with winners at Sportsman's Park and Robison Field, so with Perfit, Wingo, O'Connor and Moore absent the three leaguers saw a victory for their efforts—a crash for the Cardinals.

THE ENEMY HAS BEEN POOLED. Last fall the Cardinals, after finishing third in the stalling National League pennant race, were the first to strike against the Browns and were beaten in four of the six games in the fall series. The Cardinals checked; they lagged; they knew four members had been pilfered and 1915 would have the Cardinals at least a second division ball club, and probably the league's tail-end.

The Federal Leagueers have been fooled. The Cardinals have come back; they have surprised those who were dreaming out of the first division with Magee, Perfit, Wingo and O'Connor in other fields, in their practice in Texas. The Cardinals look like a regular pennant club today. This is not predicting the flag—no, but the 1915 Cardinals look just as strong as the 1914 Cards after winning three out of four games from the Browns.

CARDS DELIVER THE PUNCH. A short series does not bring out the true strength of a ball club. One team may get the desired pitching as well as the timely hits in the pinch. The Cardinals have delivered this in the four games. One team may not have the pitcher and may not get the pinch hits. The Browns have failed to get the pitching and the batting.

Eliminating the results of the four spring games and just tabulating the movements of the Cardinals and we can see a first division club for Huggins with ease. During Sunday's frolic a home springer who traveled with the Cardinals last summer, but who now sees a one-two-three club for Fielder Jones, remarked:

"The Cardinals can't come back. Huggins will not be able to replace Perfit, Wingo and Moore."

"The Cardinals will have a pennant ball club. Jones is the smartest manager in baseball."

"Huggins had his chance last year, but I can't put him in the first division this summer. He lost fifty per cent. of his strength."

This scribbled did not see the Cardinals during the Texas training trip. His judgment comes from what he has read or from what outsiders have told him.

TWO 1914 PITCHERS IMPROVE. The Cardinals will not miss Perfit and Wingo. Magee will not be missed as an outfielder. Lee will be valuable today as Miller Huggins' successor on second base, but if Huggins can stick through the Cardinals and never the other four to Art Butler or Jack Miller, Magee absence is not going to wreck the Cards.

Perfit could be used by Huggins, but does this scribbled realize that Dan Griner and Hal Pedersen are going to be better pitchers in 1915 than 1914; that Griner was the original tough-

FIELDER SEES MINORS' DOOM.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, April 13.—No more than three or four minor leagues in the entire country will be operating a week after the Fourth of July, according to Fielder A. Jones, who, before joining the Federal League, was president of the Northwestern Baseball League, Jones, who is manager of the St. Louis Federal, said this situation would be the result of the fight waged between the Federal and the forces of organized baseball.

"I am not certain that all of the minor leagues will be even open," he is quoted as saying. "As for making money, none of them will; that is a certainty."

FOOTBALL WORK FOR METHODISTS

First Spring Practice on Next Monday.

Glaze not to Have Any Kind of Scrimmage.

Blocking to be Drilled into the Men.

Spring football training is to start at the University of Southern California next Monday. The announcement was made by Coach Glaze at a conference with Warren Board, graduate athletic manager for the local university.

Just how many men Glaze will have out for spring practice he does not know, but he expects a large squad. The varsity veterans who will be eligible next fall will be reinforced by a likely looking lot of freshmen, and the football prospects are much brighter at U.S.C. for the coming season than they were last spring, when it was announced that the local university was to drop Rugby and return to the American game.

THREE VETERANS.

Glaze had but three veterans on his squad last fall. The material available for the varsity was mostly Rugby stuff and he had a hard row to hoe, and the three made up for what they lacked in the line of blocking. He has a string of husky freshmen and his men will not have to waste much time on any lessons during the coming season.

THE WORK OF THE SPRING TRAINING season is to consist of, first, having pupils learn to drill in the line for the first week. Then forward passing will be taken up, and information and signal work. Last of all, Glaze intends to work his men for a time in blocking.

NEVER MASTERED.

This is something that Southern California football players have never mastered. The weather here is not so hot as in the north, and the men will be worked up to the place where scrimmage could start, and then the weather will be too hot. Glaze claims, for men to work hard in the spring, as they would be likely to go stale in the fall, just before the final games.

REDLANDS CLASS MEET.

BOYS DOPED TO WIN—WEED IS WHOLE TEAM BY HIMSELF FOR FROSH.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

REDLANDS, April 12.—The track season at the University of Redlands will open on Tuesday with an inter-collegiate meet, the first ever held, which will be a battle between Coach L. Gillette and the Redlands team. Gillette has developed the first track team the university has had this year, and the Redlands team is good enough to send into the A.A.U. meet at Los Angeles.

The inter-collegiate meet will be between the freshmen and the sophomores. The sophomores seem to be carrying the weight of the team, and the freshmen are making good time and Coach Gillette plans to enter him in the big meet.

"Helme" Weed is the all-star for the freshmen. He is entered in the hurdles, the broad jump, the pole vault, discus and hammer throw. Honeycutt is the sprinter for the freshmen, running the 100, the 220 and the 440. Herb York, high jumper and Pendleton is a good 880 man.

"Jimmy" Leonard is the big man for the sophomores. He will be in the 220 hurdles, the relay and the broad jump. Gillette will handle the pole vault and hammer throw. The distance jogs, Smith is for the 880 and the relay. Whitney in the discus and broad. "Dutch" Hentchke is the best man the juniors have, and Blowers is about the only point-winner for the seniors.

THE BIG CATCH.

REDLANDS, April 11.—A big catch from Big Bear Lake was brought down to the Redlands school boys. All of them brought down the limit of the big lake trout, having taken the entire lot of 100 fish. The boys in the party were Harry Willis, Billie, Robert, Harold Kincher, Leland, Fred and Robert.

Stanton used coffee to keep his men from getting too fine an edge and going wild on the game and the perfect condition throughout a track season. Stanton is a man of few words. The least little thing seems to throw the athlete off form. Like the slightest jar throws a

JONES TO GET HALF OF WILLARD'S EARNINGS.

Pickens Says that He Saw the Contract and that the New Champion is Tied up to Ironclad Articles—Bill Thinks that the Manager Should Get Money for He Makes the Star.

JES WILLARD is under a ten-year contract with Tom Jones to give him manager 50 per cent. of his earnings during that period, according to Bill Pickens, who was manager of the late Lincoln Beachy. Pickens claims to have seen the contract in the East.

"And it is ironclad," said Pickens yesterday. "Willard hasn't a chance to get away from Jones. I know. And why not?"

"Willard is a champion today by accident. If he reached the top by his own efforts. One-tenth of 1 per cent. of Willard's success is due to his own efforts. Others tried and failed. Willard, too, would have failed, but for Jones' management, carried him through."

UP AND DOWN. With Willard, Jones went to the top. He was a champion, but he was in the bank and was considered well off. Then he went down. The last time he was in Los Angeles his diamonds were missing. He told Pickens that he was $20,000 in the hole and expected to lose $10,000 more before he got any return.

Joe Willard, carried him along. He was a champion, but he was in the bank and was considered well off. Then he went down. The last time he was in Los Angeles his diamonds were missing. He told Pickens that he was $20,000 in the hole and expected to lose $10,000 more before he got any return.

CELEBRITY UNAPPRECIATIVE. "The most unappreciative louse in the world," said Pickens, "is the celebrity. The champion who is in any sport turns on his manager as he has succeeded and wants to throw the manager down and go on his own hook."

No champion ever stays at the top unless he is managed by a brainy man. Yet there is a howl always against the manager. He is called a parasite. He is called a leech. Yet he saves all his money for the manager and he is a let more.

"While the manager is either spending his money on women, wine and song or sinking it away, the manager is spending his money on the interests of the celebrity. The manager is a man who will do anything to keep his star in the top of the world."

PICKENS' RECORD. For twenty years Pickens has been a professional manager. He was a bicycle rider in 1891. He was a champion of the world in 1891. He was a champion of the world in 1891. He was a champion of the world in 1891.

STANTON ORDERS COFFEE.

All Pomona Trackmen Must Drink Their Java During the Training Season, Because It Keeps Them from Going Stale—Hun Training Rules Strict—Location Ideal for Getting Best Athletic Results.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

CLAREMONT, April 12.—The question has been asked often, "Why is it that Pomona College football and track teams are such consistent winners?" The secret of Pomona's almost universal success is spelled by the one word, "condition." Coach Stanton always has his Hun in the best of shape on the days of his big meets.

Coach Stanton is a man of few words. The least little thing seems to throw the athlete off form. Like the slightest jar throws a

THE RULER.

"If you are going to train at all, train consistently. It won't do you any good to train during the week and then break over on Sunday, and it's liable to do you more harm than not to train at all."

"Never keep late hours during the training season. Ten o'clock should be the bedtime for any regular night, and 9 o'clock for the nights before meet days. Fresh track men should be in bed at least eight hours of good, sound sleep every night."

"Put your pipe on the retired list and forego all kinds of smoking during track season. Of course, it is impossible to be a champion if you never supposed to touch alcoholic liquors of any kind."

Keep your muscles in good condition. If you are troubled with a "Charley Horse," tell the trainers about it, and have them give you a rubdown. Never allow any cold water to touch a strained muscle, but give it frequent applications of hot towels.

"Never eat anything between meals. Eat three full meals a day, and let it go at that. Eat toast at breakfast and lunch if possible. Also, drink coffee twice a day."

"Give up all kinds of pies and pastries. If you think you must have cream, eat it only with your meals."

"Above all things, be out for practice every afternoon. A man can not keep his muscles in good condition if he does not exercise them consistently. If you cannot come out for some unavoidable reason, tell me beforehand."

These are the rules that Coach Stanton expects his track men to follow. Any man that breaks any of them is in danger of dismissal from the squad. No matter how great a star he may be.

WEY COFFEE? Most of Stanton's rules are self-explanatory, and have been handed down to one acquainted with training. But why does he order his men to drink coffee twice a day?

Stanton uses coffee to keep his men from getting too fine an edge and going wild on the game and the perfect condition throughout a track season. Stanton is a man of few words. The least little thing seems to throw the athlete off form. Like the slightest jar throws a

Joe to Read.

Since then he has managed from forty to fifty stars. His champions are Cooper, the bicycle champion; Louis Strang, the automobile racer, and Lincoln Beachy, the great aviator, are all dead. He is now back where he started.

Beachy flew for eight years before he jumped to the front. He got along but was not a star and did not make money like he did under Pickens. Last year alone Beachy made $100,000, according to Pickens.

The worst thing for the manager to contend with is the wife of the celebrity usually. She cannot see why the champion should cut with a manager. She believes that the champion has done it all himself and can't see why he cannot get out and manage his own affairs.

THE IDEA. It's like any commercial line. Willard is compared to the production engineer. He produces the goods. The manager sells the goods, creates the market and collects the proceeds. It's really a fifty-fifty proposition.

There are a great many automobile racers who have not reaped the full value of their prowess, because they were strong in the back or arms and weak in the head, according to Pickens. There are men in other lines who are also not where they should be because they have not the business ability to manage their own affairs successfully.

There are other men who have been made by clever management. The manager arranges his matches so that his proteges will work up in public opinion. He keeps him away from the hard contests until he succeeds and then puts him over in a championship match.

Joe Rivers owes his success to Joe Levy. Luther McCarthy was carried to the top by McCarthy.

ACCIDENTS. The hardest thing for the manager is the chance of accident. Like McCarthy, champions are not made by the manager, but they are made by the manager. The manager makes a star by starting him on or over his place. The director thinks for his stars; they get the glory, reputation and money, while the manager is the maker of the action, remains in the background.

Without the manager, no champion can hope to remain at the head of the list any more than a great manufacturer can keep his goods on the shelves with the shop foreman selling goods on the road.
